Special Notice.

A conveyance from the College will meet all students who arrive at Walla Walla, between September 10th and September 15th. They will be carried to College Place without charge, and it will not be necessary for them to notify us of their arrival. However, those who come after September 15th, and desire to be met at Walla Walla, must notify the College of the exact time of their arrival. The hack will meet each student on their arrival and take them to the train on their departure once during the year. For all trips above this a charge of fifty cents will be made for each passenger. The regular hack fare is not less than $2.00. The hack will make weekly trips to the city, charging a fare of ten cents for round trip.

THE NEW WALLA WALLA HOSPITAL,

Everything For the Home.

Did you ever consider how many things this term covers? Do you realize that we use the term so often in order to impress on your minds the fact that we carry everything required to furnish a home and many things besides? We are led to say these things because of the frequency of some of our old customers remarking, in surprise: "I did not know you kept that." Don't think because you asked for some article we did not have a year ago that we do not have it now. On the contrary, kindly remember that we try to supply any article which has merit, or for which there is a demand, consequently each year and each month has made our stock more complete. Such well-known makes as

Jewel Stoves and Ranges,
Philadelphia Lawn Mowers,
Palmer Hammocks,
Illinois Automatic Refrigerators,
Park Mills Carpets,
Johnson Bros.' and Meakin's English Crockery, Haviland China, etc.,

give hints of the qualities of our goods, while large buying enables us to name prices which few competitors care to meet.

TRAINING SCHOOL.

The Walla Walla College, founded December 7, 1892, is a denominational institution under the control of the Seventh-Day Adventists. It has for its object the education and training of young men and women for the various lines of gospel work. The school has been highly successful along this line during the past, and prosperity has attended its work. However, the Board of Managers have felt that the school should be still more adapted to the needs of our workers, and have accordingly made important changes in the plans of work. This will in no wise interfere with the giving of a LIBERAL EDUCATION to those who are able to spend the time to take it. We believe that no one who reads the plans of the different departments and the lines of work offered, will feel that the school has been cheapened in any way, but, on the contrary, it will be clearly seen that everything is based on God's word, and is made as practical as possible.

Those who take work in this school will be better prepared to pass an examination on the lines taken up even in the world, than if they were to pursue them in a worldly school.

LOCATION.

Freedom, health and happiness are requisites to successful school life. These are all secured to the student by the delight ful surroundings of the College.

The College is located about two and one-half miles from Walla Walla, which is a city of 8000 inhabitants, situated in the celebrated Walla Walla Valley, a region justly noted for its orchards and gardens. The climate is mild and healthful. Seven splendid mountain streams and countless spring branches flow through the valley to water its luxuriant vegetation. From these sparkling and musical streams the name "Walla Walla" is derived, meaning "Many Waters."

The College may be reached by three systems of railroad—the Union Pacific, the Great Northern, and the Northern Pacific.

BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS.

The College building is a substantial structure of brick, four stories in height, of modern design and architecture. Two brick dormitories are connected with it, containing rooms and dining room capacity to accommodate one hundred and fifty students. The rooms are heated by steam and lighted by electricity.

The College is surrounded by a beautiful campus, blessed with an abundance of pure spring water, and is in close proximity to orchards and gardens which may be seen on every side.

COLLEGE YEAR.

The College year will open September 13, 1899, and close May 22, 1900. It will consist of three terms of twelve weeks each. No arrangement is made for a vacation between terms. The advantage of this plan is, that the students have one month more to be out of the school-room, affording them an opportunity to earn means to pay school expenses.

TIME TO ENTER.

Much of the student's success in class work depends upon his entering the College at the beginning of the school year or at the beginning of the Winter or Spring term. This gives him great advantage in planning his work, and in pursuing his studies from the beginning. Those, however, who find it necessary to enter at other times may do so, provided they notify the President of this fact, stating definitely the time when they intend to enter.

WHO ADMITTED. The College is open to all worthy persons of both sexes. The moral influence of the school is carefully guarded, and no one who uses indecent, profane, or unbecoming language, or indulges in the use of tobacco or alcoholic drinks, or who is in any way vicious or immoral, will be admitted.

BOARD AND ROOM. All unmarried students whose parents do not reside at or near College Place are required to board and room at the College. Students who are absolutely unable to meet the expense at the Home may be permitted, on application, to secure approved places to work for their board; or in case such places cannot be found, students who are known to be perfectly reliable may be permitted to room, under the supervision of approved persons, outside of the Home. All applications for such permissions, stating the reasons for the request, must be presented to the Locating Committee and approved before any such arrangements are made. Failure to comply with these requirements will justify the Faculty in declining to receive such students for classification.

Candidates for admission who are strangers to the Faculty are requested to produce evidence of good moral character.

DISCIPLINE. General regulations adopted by the Board of Managers are found on page 10. More specific regulations are made by the Faculty as circumstances require. Students who desire the greatest possible benefit from their school work, and who are willing to submit to reasonable regulations, will find themselves in harmony with the management. The aim of the management is to develop self-reliant, self-controlled men and women; but no provision is made for the reformation of young people who are too incorrigible to be governed at home; and parents are cautioned against sending such to this institution. No student is allowed to remain in the school, who, after fair trial, is unwilling to render cheerful obedience to its requirements, or whose influence is pernicious. This course is necessary to protect the morals of other students, and maintain the moral standing of the school.

EXAMINATIONS. Students who have done work in other schools having an equal standing with this will receive credit for this work upon entering the College, by presenting the evidence that such work has been done in a creditable manner. All other students are required, upon entering the College, to pass an examination, either written or oral or both, to determine the grade of work which they are capable of pursuing. A final examination is held in each study whenever it is completed, and more frequent examinations are held at the discretion of the instructors. No credit will be allowed for an examination in any study pursued by a student while taking regular work in the College, unless such study is taken under the direction of some competent instructor.

CALENDAR EXAMINATION. Students are expected to study the rules and regulations of the Calendar of 1898, and will be required to pass a satisfactory examination on the same soon after entering the College.

NEEDS OF THE COLLEGE.

(1) Contributions to the students' loan fund, from which worthy students may receive some financial aid. (2) Funds with which to purchase additional books for the library. Donations of standard works will be thankfully received. Please correspond with the College before sending them. (3) Specimens for the museum. Curiosities of any kind will be accepted.

SOME DISTINCTIVE FEATURES OF THE COLLEGE.

A Christian home for non-resident students.

A stroug religious influence pervading all the work.

Work conducted in complete harmony with the Bible and Testimonies.

Practical courses to train young people to enter at once into the different lines of our work.

Special attention is paid to healthful living.

A sentiment which permits older students to pursue elementary branches without embarassment.

Necessary expenses low. Economy and plainness in dress encouraged.

Science work upon a basis which strengthens faith in God's word.

An exceptionally stroug course in history in which the philosophy of history and the fulfillment of prophecy are made prominent.

Regular class and chorus drill in vocal music under a competent director.

A music and General Missionay course. Courses for miuisters, bible workers, teachers, business workers, etc.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Books and stationery are kept for sale in the College.

Each student must provide himself with a pair of good rubbers.

The scholarship of each student is recorded for permanent reference.

A certificate of scholarship is given to each student at the close of each term, showing his standing in the branches he has studied. A duplicate is forwarded to parents or guardians.

All mail for the College should be directed to College Place, Walla Walla County, Wash. The word "College" added to the address will facilitate its delivery. Students in the Home are not permitted to have private postoffice boxes. Mail is delivered each day.

All correspondence relating to the institution should be addressed to the President, College Place, Wash.

Regulations

Governing All Students of Walla Walla College During the Entire College Year.

CONDITIONS.

Regular attendance on all College exercises is expected of every student. Realizing, however, that in some cases this is impossible, the Faculty will accept satisfactory reasons for a limited number of absences. All excuses must be presented in writing to the President or to a member of the Faculty acting in his place, for approval. Students who reside in the village must have the name of one of their parents or guardians signed to their excuses. Those living in the College Home must secure the name of the Preceptor or Preceptress. All absences not satisfactorily explained shall stand as unexcused; when any student shall have two such absences charged against him, he shall be required to appear before the President; and three absences without excuse will be reported to the student's parents or guardian, and the Faculty will deal firmly with such cases. Should a number of absences from any class, whether excused or not, exceed fifteen per cent of the whole number of recitations for the full term, the student thus forfeits his standing in that class.

No student shall leave any class of any department, except by permission of the Faculty.

Every student is required to pass a satisfactory examination in each study pursued, before entering a succeeding class.

No student shall receive private lessons or engage in teaching, except by permission of the President.

Four full studies and one drill pursued at the same time constitute full work, and no student will be allowed to take more, unless by special permission of the Faculty, the request and reasons therefor having been previously presented in writing.

Students are expected to maintain a proper degree of reserve in their associations with those of the opposite sex. Gentlemen must not escort ladies on the street or to or from public gatherings.

Gentlemen who wish to call on ladies living outside of the Home must first obtain permission from the President to do so.

Attending parties, the theatre, or any entertainment of an objectionable character, interferes with the student's work, and exerts a wrong influence in the school. It is therefore forbidden.

Students desiring to attend any social gathering must first obtain permissian from the Faculty or President.

Frequent attendance upon evening gatherings of any kind is not in harmony with the plan of work at the College, and may be made a matter of discipline at the discretion of the Faculty.

Students living outside the College Home are expected to observe the hours for study as indicated on page... They must not be playing or loitering in the vicinity of the College during this time.

No student will be allowed to enter any class without first obtaining an admission voucher from the President.

The Sabbath should be observed by resident students as required on page 14.

Failure to comply with any of the above regulations will subject the student to discipline.

Whenever in the judgment of the Faculty, a student's attendance is no longer profitable to himself, or is detrimental to the school, he may be dismissed.

The Home.

A careful study of the best manner of training students reveals the advantages of a students' Home. Peculiarities of conduct and irregularities of habit will be overcome as students associate together with Christian teachers under well regulated home influences. By this means industrious and studious habits and refined tastes will be inculcated. Special attention will be given to the neatness and order with which room work is done.

Christian courtesy and refinement will result from this manner of life.

The Managers earnestly recommend that all parents living at a distance, who send their sons and daughters to the College, make provision for them to live in the Home. The program of the Home is such as can be followed by all without inconvenience, and the requirements are such as are consistent with a spirit of trust and freedom. The work of the Home is largely done by the students themselves, each one working one hour per day in part payment of his expenses. The work is planned that when each one has performed the amount assigned, the whole work is accomplished in an orderly way. The training thus received in bearing a responsibility during the years of school life, is extremely valuable both in its present and future results.

YOUNGER STUDENTS.

While our church school will provide extensively for our younger children, there are always a number who desire to attend here. For the accommodation of this class the College has connected a cottage of ample capacity under the supervision of a Christian mother and her husband both of whom have special talent in this line.

Every member of the Home must conform to the daily program arranged by those in charge. All students in the Home must be at home evenings, unless special permission is obtained to the contrary. Ladies can receive gentlemen callers only in the public parlors, and on such days as those in charge may permit. Students may visit the city or other places in or near College Place only by special permission from the Preceptor or Preceptress. Permission will not be granted in any case to attend parties or sociables, unless those arranging for such gatherings previously confer with the President of the Faculty and Managers of the Home.

Each member of the school family will furnish his own toilet soap, brushes, combs, six towels, four napkins, napkin ring, four pillow cases, four sheets, a bed spread, a pillow, quilts or blankets, two yards of heavy flannel for fomentation cloths for use in case of sickness, two long work aprons, a sewing outfit, spread for table 48x30 inches, also toilet spreads for dresser and wash stand. Each student must be provided with a pair of noiseless slippers or shoes, to be worn during study hours. Those who come unprovided with these things will be required to purchase them here. All articles should be plainly and durably marked with the full name of owner.

Students must not be strolling about on the Sabbath (Saturday), but must regard the day and attend Sabbath school and public worship. No departure from this regulation will be made except at the discretion of the Preceptors. In case of necessary absence, the student's time should be spent in his private room. Students are not allowed to make or receive calls on the Sabbath, nor should they spend a single Sabbath away from the College during term time.

For obvious reasons students are required to attend morning and evening worship. Promptness and regularity must be cultivated in home as well as in school duties. Preceptors will keep a daily record of attendance at worship, and require reasonable excuses for absences.

Regularity in diet is urged upon all students. It is the object of the school to set before the students such articles of food as will be conducive to general good health. Parents are requested not to send boxes of food to their children. Only a light tray or lunch will be allowed in the room in the evening. Any variation from this must be by permission of those in charge of the Home.

The years which a young girl spends at school are those in which good physical habits should become so confirmed as to become necessary for comfort. It will, in every case, be required that the whole outfit be in harmony with the necessities of good physical development. The lady in charge of this department will insist on a change of dress whenever that worn is judged by her to be a hindrance to the best health. All dresses should be as light as is consistent with warmth; evenly distributed; all skirts hung from a waist so loosely worn that the arms can reach straight up with perfect ease; sleeves to admit of the freest movement. No corsets should be worn with any suit. The shoes worn should have low heels. All students are expected to dress plainly. The wearing of

Expenses.

The charge for non-resident students will be $18.00 per month of four weeks, payable cash in advance. This will include board, use of room, light and heat during such hours as may be deemed necessary by the Home management, plain washing, use of library and reading room, and tuition in regular course of study. This price is based upon the supposition that two students occupy each room, and that two meals per day are furnished. Any change from this plan will necessitate an increase in the charges made.

Thirty hours' work is provided for each student of sufficient age and ability during each school month. When this work is done acceptably, the students will be allowed ten cents per hour ~~labor to the College~~. These charges are so low that the College will be unable to meet extra expenses incurred on account of illness of students.

In such cases the actual cost of providing a physician or a a nurse, and five cents extra for each meal sent to the room will be charged to the student's account. No deduction from the regular charges will be made for a short absence.

In most cases, it will be better for parents to send money directly to the College, and not to their children. In doing so, draw all drafts, checks, orders, etc., in favor of "Walla Walla College." Students need but little spending money; and parents are urged to require a monthly statement of expenses from their children. In order for students to draw money on their account from the Business Office for incidental expenses, an order from their parents will be required.

It is expected that all students will have respect for College property; and in case of destruction of property of any kind, such as breaking windows, dishes, tools, etc., the actual cost of replacing the same will be charged, if those doing the damage report it at the Business Office within twenty-four hours after the damage is done. If it is not reported, and those in charge are compelled to find the person who did the damage, twice the amount of the actual cost will be charged.

Also the advantage must not be passed unnoticed of being able to select those varieties of food which are the most palatable and best adapted to each individual. Tickets will be sold at the Business Office for $7.50, good for three hundred dishes at two and one-half cents each. This will last one month if five dishes are ordered at each meal. In cases where three, six, or nine of these tickets are bought (to be used by one person) the corresponding discounts of five, seven and a half, and ten per cent. will be made. In no cases will meal tickets be transferred nor any person be allowed to order from another person's ticket. Students inviting guests to the dining room should not fail to notify the Matron.

CHANGING CLASSES.

Each student on entering Walla Walla College is allowed to take up any studies or course, which in the judgment of the Faculty he or she is qualified to carry. Great care should be exercised by the student in selecting his line of work, as it is detrimental to the student as well as to the general class work, to change during the term. No student will be allowed to change a line of work he has taken up, at any other time than the last two days of each school month. At such times a fee of twenty-five cents will be collected for each change. Opportunity will be given at the beginning of each term to make reasonable changes, subject to the action of the Faculty, without charge.

~~Twenty five per cent. is added for a fifth study.~~

~~Beginning with September 13, 1899~~, all students ~~of Walla Walla College~~ will pay the full rate of the division in which they are studying, whether they are taking full work or not. In cases where their work comes under two or more divisions, they will be charged the full rate of the division in which their highest class is taken.

Where three or more students belonging to the same family attend the College, and their expenses are all paid by one person (the Managers being satisfied of this fact), a deduction of five per cent from the regular charges will be made in their favor. There will be no discount allowed where tuition is paid by labor or provisions, or transferred from one party to another, unless by special arrangement.

In making out bills to resident students, the time will be reckoned from the first or middle of the school month in which the student enters. If the student withdraws during the first half of a school month, he will be charged to the middle of the month. If he withdraws at any time

~~Twenty-five per cent is added for a fifth study.~~

Under all circumstances, when a student pays a part of his expenses ~~by labor, the full amount will be collected~~ at the beginning of the month, and the ~~student~~ will be paid in cash at the end of the month for the work that has been done.

When resident students pay in advance to take advantage of the discount, and afterward lessen their rate by a change of studies, there will be no change made in their account.

Where three or more students belonging to the same family attend the College, and they are taking full work, and their tuition is all paid by one person (the Managers being satisfied of this fact), a deduction of five per cent from the regular charges will be made in their favor. There will be no discount allowed where tuition is paid by labor or provisions, or transferred from one party to another, unless by special arrangement.

In making out bills to resident students, the time will be reckoned from the first or middle of the school month in which the student enters. If the student withdraws during the first half of a school month, he will be charged to the middle of the month. If he withdraws at any time after the middle of the month he will be charged to the end of the month.

The payment, at the time of entering, of an incidental fee of fifty cents, will be required from all resident students, ~~which will be used in the support of the library and reading room~~.

~~All students in natural science work will be held responsible for any breakage or damage of apparatus, and the same must be satisfactorily settled for before class standing will be granted.~~

A small fee will be charged all students doing work in the laboratory to meet actual cost of material consumed. The fee in any case probably will not exceed $2.50 for a term.

SCHOOL MONTH.

Four weeks or twenty-eight days constitute a school month. All charges will be made on this basis.

the name of Seventh Day Adventist, should be to prepare to be a worker with Christ in the preparation of His coming.

Have our schools come up to God's standard in preparing workers to enter the harvest field in the past? It is sad to say that they have not.

God has sent reproof for our lack, and for our mistakes in modeling our schools after worldly institutions, and it is encouraging to know that the reproof has been accepted, and our school system modeled after the Lord's plan. The Walla Walla College Board have taken active measures to make our school a place where our young [illegible] potent to elevate the thoughts, to give vigor to the faculties, as the broad, ennobling truths of the Bible."

The chief object of the founders of Walla Walla College was to have a school where the word of God should have its proper [illegible] school with some definite line of work in view. These departments are as follows:

"The Ministers and Bible Workers Course," under the charge of an experienced minister of the gospel; "The Medical Missionary and Practical Science Course," under the supervision of a graduated and consecrated physician. This department will not only turn out medical missionaries, but also trained nurses. "The Normal Course," under the direction of a practical instructor in the line of training teachers for our church schools. "The Commercial Department," under the tutorship of an expert in practical and theoretical business lines. Then the grades under competent management, and the musical training of our children will receive due attention, as the services of a special professor in this line have been secured. I will mention, also, manual training in manufacturing health foods, in broom making, printing, cooking, dressmaking, farming, gardening, all of which will be taught in connection with our College during the coming year.

THE MINISTERIAL DEPARTMENT.

It is, no doubt, proper that I should say a few words in regard to this department since I am to be connected with this part of the work the coming year.

We wish to say that we are in hearty sympathy with the action of the School Board in placing the school on the basis of a practical training school for the lines of work in the cause. We believe that the Lord is soon coming and that this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations, and then shall the end come.

A great work is before us, but the time has surely come when the Lord will finish the work and cut it short in righteousness. Now the question is, shall we let the Lord use us in this short work? If so, it follows that those desiring to take part in this closing work must have a speedy preparation for the work. I know I speak the truth when I say that every person upon whom the Lord has laid the burden to enter the ministry to proclaim this message to the people, has longed for a short course in practical training before going before the people to present the truth, but to them time seemed so short and the work so great that they could not think of spending year after year in school before entering the work. There have been those who have entered some of our schools with a burden for the work, but their education has been drawn out to such a length that they have lost their ardor for the work and have been lost to the cause. This certainly is not in harmony with God's will.

Christ had the disciples with him about a year before he sent them out to preach, and then they would return and tell all things that the Lord had done with them, and receive further instruction. Now we know it is the Lord's will for our schools to prepare to give a short practical training to those whom he has burdened to enter the work. This is what the Walla Walla College proposes to do. We propose to offer sufficient instruction in one year to help any one who is otherwise qualified to present the message clearly. When a young man has been out in the field and gained more experience in actual work, he can return and study those points where he is deficient, and by this means in a short time he can develop into a competent worker.

We do not advocate an ignorant or incompetent ministry, but we desire our ministers to be the most thoroughly qualified for their work, which is to proclaim the third angel's message with the power of the Holy Spirit. Some men in preparing for the ministry have gone through College and taken a theological course besides, and then could not quote the ten commandments.

There are a multitude of things that a minister may know, and there are many things he should know, but there are some things he must know.

He must know God and Jesus Christ whom he has sent. He must know the truth and the truth shall make him free. He must know the message before he can present it, for "We speak that we do know and testify that we have seen."

To all who should attend this department we say come and let us study God's word together and let the Holy Spirit guide us into all truth, and prepare us just as quickly as possible to carry the last message of mercy to a dying world.

COURSE OF STUDY FOR MINISTERIAL DEPARTMENT.

BIBLICAL STUDY.—This course will cover conversion, holiness of life, the work of the Holy Spirit, the third angel's message, and every point of present truth. The study will be conducted in such a way as to best enable the student to present the truth to the people.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE.—Practical instruction will be given in the English language so as to enable the student to express his thought clearly and correctly.

HISTORY.—This course of study will cover that part of history which record the fulfillment of prophecy.

READING.—Careful drill will be given in reading the Bible, hymns, and whatever a minister might need to read publicly.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.—Special help will be given in this line. The students will have opportunity to speak before the class, in the Mission at Walla Walla, and in the school houses within reach of the College.

NOTE.—Any other instruction that may be necessary can be had in this or some other department of the school.

MEDICAL MISSIONARY DEPARTMENT.

One of the greatest needs in connection with the promulgation of the truth for these times is medical missionaries and trained nurses. There is such a strong current in this direction that from 800 to 1000 students are in constant training in the Sanitarium Training School at Battle Creek, Michigan. Those in charge of that Training school are often perplexed to know how to receive the many applicants for places in the school, and are compelled to turn many away. Walla Walla College purposes to give students who desire to take a medical missionary training, an opportunity to do so without the expense of going two-thirds of the way across the continent, and being absent from home for a period of two or three years. Arrangements are being made for both treatment rooms and for securing the services of one of the Battle Creek Sanitarium physicians, who will have charge of this department, and give the students as much practical and theoretical instruction in medical missionary work in a single year as could be obtained in other institutions in three or four years.

Not only is there great demand for medical missionaries, but it is becoming a positive necessity that all of our ministers, Bible workers, church school teachers and canvassers should know how to treat the sick by rational methods. In fact the sphere of usefulness of every worker in the cause will be greatly enlarged by having a practical knowledge of medical missionary methods.

It will be a special feature of this department to give the students a thoroughly practical training. With this in view, plans will be laid whereby the physcian and wife in charge will establish a free clinic for the examination and treatment of the poor both in College Place and Walla Walla. Thus the students will know how to treat various cases of sickness. The indications are that this will be the largest class in the College during the coming years.

These courses will be fully outlined in our fall announcement.

The following is a brief outline of the one year's Preparatory Medical Course, which will be accepted by the American Medical Missionary College as one year's work on their regular course.

PREPARATORY MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

ANATOMY, giving special attention to the bones and muscles, 60 hours. Text-book, Gray.

ADVANCED PHYSIOLOGY—The entire subject, using "Waller" (published by Longmans, Green & Co.) or "Martin's Human Body," which is less expensive and hardly as good; 60 hours.

GENERAL CHEMISTRY—Shepherd, or Remsen; 30 hours, with 30 more of simple laboratory work.

PRACTICAL HYGIENE—By Currier (published by F. B. Treat, New York); 60 hours.

BIBLE AND HISTORY OF MISSIONS—Sixty hours. Would suggest, as one of the text-books to be used, "A Hundred Years of Missions," by Leonard. Published by Funke & Wagnall's Co., New York.

ADDITIONAL STUDIES.

PHYSICS—Gage's "Introduction," or "Carhart and Chutes;" 40 hours, with 20 hours laboratory work.

ZOOLOGY—Packard's "Briefer Course;" 40 hours.

BOTONY—Gray; 40 hours, and analysis of at least 40 specimens.

MEDICAL LATIN—Seventy-five hours. We would suggest "The Elements of Latin for Students in Medicine," by Crothers and Bise. Published by F. A. Davis & Co.

NORMAL DEPARTMENT.

"And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars forever and ever."

The purpose of the Normal Department is to develop Christian teachers. The Bible will therefore be made the basis of instruction in every class. Special attention will be given to the common branches and to studies from nature.

The department will be open to all consecrated young men and women who desire to enter this work. There are at present many calls for consecrated teachers for church schools. It is to supply these demands that the work will be especially planned. There is no fixed time for study in this department before the student will be prepared for a position as teacher. This will depend upon his advancement before beginning the course, upon the character of his work, upon his aptness to teach, and upon his Christian experience and growth. Those who have finished the ninth grade, and who have done their work well, ought to be able to enter the church school work after a year's course in this department. Some may be able to do so in a shorter time.

The student's work will not consist simply of study and recitation. Each subject will be presented in such a way as to show the best method of teaching it, and then the student will be asked to teach some class in the grades which is studying the same subject. In this way every student in the Normal Department will put into actual practice the various principles of teaching. Every effort will be made to enable the student to overcome whatever interferes with their success as teachers, and all who enter the department with an earnest determination to improve may be sure of success.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT.

The work offered in this department consists of the following studies and drills arranged in such a manner as to constitute one year's course:

Bookkeeping, Commercial Arithmetic, Commercial

Law, Business Correspondence, Spelling, Penmanship, and Rapid Calculation. Bookkeeping being the principal study.

Much improvement has been made the past few years in the method of teaching this subject.

At a recent convention of the leading Commercial teachers of the Eastern States, it was the mind of nearly all that a student should have about one-half theory and one-half actual business practice.

What is meant by actual business practice might be explained thus: Our school is in correspondence with from four to six other schools doing similar work with ours. Each school has a number of offices, as a Wholesale House, Bank, Railroad, etc. Students are furnished a directory of the schools forming the circle, and an outlined plan of communication is carried on in which they buy, sell and exchange commodities, thus bringing into use all the different kinds of Commercial paper, and furnishing an excellent drill in Letter Writing.

Students also get a thorough drill in all the different legal papers, such as Deeds, Leases, Mortgages, Releases, Assignments, etc.

"'Holiness to the Lord' is to be written on day books, ledgers, on deeds, receipts, and bills of exchange." D. of A., P. 556.

The spirit of the above will characterize the work throughout, and in addition a Bible class will be formed in the department taking up a study of Present truth.

Special attention will be given to the preparation of students for our own work, such as tract society work, etc.

STENOGRAPHY.

Owing to the constant demand made upon the College for competent stenographers and neat, accurate typewriters, the Board of Managers have established a department for the purpose of preparing young men and women of ability to occupy these responsible positions.

The great lack of proficient persons to carry on this line of work has been keenly realized in our Institutions, Tract Societies, Conferences, etc., as well as in the commercial world at large, therefore it is now given a prominent place in the College curriculum. Separate apartments have been fitted up for those desiring to take phonography and typewriting, where special attention will be given to these branches in all their different phases.

PHONOGRAPHY.—The text-book used is Graham's Hand Book of Standard Phonography, Revised Edition. Having mastered the general principles of shorthand set forth here, the student will be required to take up business correspondence and general amenuensis work. Court work, reporting lectures, articles for papers, etc., will be taken up the fourth or last term.

TYPEWRITING.—New Remington Typewriters have lately been purchased by the College for this department. These can be rented by those not having machines of their own, at a low figure. The work in the typewriting room is made pleasant and interesting by the use of these light-touch, easy-running machines, and all enjoy the time spent in practicing on them.

Those who contemplate entering this department should be able to stand a rigid examination in all the common branches, especially grammar, spelling, and rhetoric.

THE DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC.

"It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, and to sing praises unto thy name, O Most High: To show forth thy loving kindness in the morning and thy faithfulness every night. Upon an instrument of ten strings, and upon the psaltery: upon the harp and with a solemn sound."

The "sweet singer of Israel" delighted to mingle with his prayer to God the music of his voice and the harmony of instruments. In the school of the prophets where the mind of God directed the course of study, music was one of the important branches taught. So at the present time, while the world is teeming with a perverted form of this beautiful method of expression. God would have his people skillful in music. Music that will not only lift the heart of the performer nearer to the Creator of the universe, but will sound the goodness and mercy of God to those who listen. We would that every laborer whether in ministerial, medical, or any other line of our work might have a true appreciation of music, and at least in a simple way, be able to use it as a means of winning souls to Christ. Students in all our departments of missionary training will be encouraged to study Sacred Music, both instrumental and vocal.

Three main lines of work are presented in this department—what we may term sacred, vocal, and instrumental music. At least one hour per day must be spent in practice on the organ. When a student fails to do this, he will be dropped from the class. One lesson per week is given each member of the class, while the harmony study is carried on in class. This work in harmony will be a study of chord formations, with the elementary rules or laws governing music. This is indispensable to a knowledge of church playing. As soon as competent, each student will be required to play in public as much as can be arranged for. This will give ease and confidence.

The rates for lessons are very low, being only $1.25 per month. Instruments may be had for the required time to practice at fifty cents per month. When a student has become proficient in this line, he will be given a certificate showing that the course has been completed. The course can be easily completed in two years.

INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC.

The aim is to give a thorough musical education both in technique and esthetics of the art; and to this end only standard text-books and studies will be used, including the works of Heller, Chopin, Loeschhorn, Duverney, Cramer, Bach, Clementi, Czerny, etc. Harmony and theory of music are branches taught in this department.

Special attention is given to those who are desirous of preparing themselves to become teachers, so they may labor intelligently and efficiently.

The terms for lessons are six dollars a quarter of twelve lessons, organ or piano.

VOICE CULTURE.

The classes in vocal music will be formed as the wants of the students demand. Natural breathing, economy and control of the breath,, tone qualities, and placing of the voice, will be treated. "The proper training of the voice is an important feature in education and should not be neglected. Singing, as a part of religious service, is as much an act of worship as is prayer."

This work is given as a drill. No charges will be made to those taking either instrumental or church music, the only expense being the music used. Those not taking any work in these lines will be charged a tuition of fifty cents per term, the year being divided into three terms of ten lessons each. Only those really desiring to improve and learn will be permitted to remain in the classes.

The rates for music are so low that no discount can be made for payment three, six or nine months in advance.

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.

This department will comprise the work heretofore conducted under years 7–10, the object being to fully prepare students for the work in College Departments.

While in purpose it is preparatory, this course in itself furnishes a well rounded education; for it embraces all the subjects required for a first grade certificate.

Believing that "the Word of God is the most perfect education in our world," it is our aim to make it the salient feature of each subject presented.

The following is a brief outline of the course of study in this department:

PRIMARY AND GRADE DEPARTMENT.

The early years spent in school are the most important in developing the character of the child. Realizing this, much thought has been given to the primary and grammar grade work. Bible is one of the studies that receives the most attention; for we believe that "the words of inspiration pondered in the heart, will be as streams flowing from the fountain of life."

This work has been carefully planned, so that the student entering the first grade and finishing the seven years' work in the primary and grammar grades, has an excellent knowledge of the Bible and knows how to study it for himself.

God not only speaks to us through His word, but many lessons of faith and obedience may be learned from the things of nature. We can read His love in the faces of the flowers, in the birds, in the hills, and in all His created works. We need only to listen and to observe God's handiwork, and we can hear Him speak to us in a "still small voice." Knowing the importance of this work, a series of nature and science studies will be related to the common branches in all the grades.

In our grade work we aim not only to do as good work as the public schools but more and better work, and such work is in accordance with the will of God.

ENGLISH BIBLE DEPARTMENT.

"The Bible stands the highest among books. The word of God is the best educational book in the world. No book is so potent to elevate the thoughts, to give vigor to the faculties, as the broad, ennobling truths of the Bible."

Believing that in the Scriptures are to be found the fundamental principles of every true science, that by them alone it is possible to reach right conclusions in any department of study, they are therefore given the leading place throughout the entire College. It has been demonstrated by the practical experience of several years that in order to study science, history, and literature in a most appreciative manner, and to be able to make proper discriminations, the mind must be strengthened and fortified by continual nourishment from the Bible.

The Bible study has been so arranged as to afford special advantages to all who would follow any lines of gospel work, especially those of the ministry, Bible reading, and canvassing.

Each student in this course will be expected to possess a good reference Bible.

ADVANCED DEPARTMENTS.

In addition to the above mentioned departments, we offer the more extended lines of collegiate work. The advanced departments are designed for such persons as have the time and means at their disposal to enable them to pursue an extended course of study with profit. They comprise the Department of History, Department of English Language and Literature, Department of Mathematics, Department of Latin.

DOMESTIC AND INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT.

It is well known that physical labor, cheerfully and faithfully performed, is conducive to both physical and moral health. In view of this, the work of the Home is so arranged that each student may have a part in it.

Instruction will be given in cooking, caring for kitchen, dining room, parlor, bedrooms, etc.

Promptness, regularity and good deportment will be expected in this department the same as in regular class work.

This not only applies to the Home work, but will apply to the outside work as well. We believe practical knowledge stands second to none, and it is our desire to supply the students with labor this year that all may have the educational advantages in this line, not only from a standpoint of labor, but from a scientific standpoint. There will be a professor in agriculture, that the young men may have experience in this line, while the young ladies will be taught by experienced instructors pertaining to the different lines of work in the house. We expect to furnish a limited amount of work to such students as are not prepared to meet their total expenses in the Home. There will be greater efforts put forth in this line than ever before, and such work as has been given mechanics, relating to improvements etc., will now be given to students.

We have recently erected quite a commodious building, which will be used for trunk room and shops. In this building we have opened a broom factory, which is meeting with marked success.

After serving an apprenticeship of a sufficient length of time to make one efficient in any of these lines, a reasonable price per hour will be allowed such students as desire to engage in them.

By the opening of school the bakery will be in operation, thus supplying labor for a number of students of both sexes. We expect to place a number of young men on the road to handle their foods, and thus make the bakery an important factor of the industrial plan.

Other lines will be introduced as fast as consistent; and everything will be done within our power to furnish work for worthy students, for the double purpose of teaching them these lines of useful labor and of assisting them in paying their way in College.

Each student of the industrial department will be expected to bring with him, or purchase here, a few tools which he will use in his line of work. The cost of these tools will not exceed two dollars and fifty cents. When the student leaves, the College will purchase of him these tools, if in good shape, at a slight reduction from what they can be bought for. If your work will be carpenter work, bring hammer and saw. If in the garden, purchase shovel and hoe, etc. The purpose of this kind of work is to help worthy young men to help themselves, and by helping them, we expect to lessen our cash expenses by raising all produce, fruit, feed, etc., consumed by us, which in the past we have been compelled to buy. Now this is a chance for those young men to receive an education who have not the means at their command, but are well able to work physically. These young men must have the following qualificatins: (1) Good health; (2) natural intelligence and ability to learn; (3) a genuine Christian experience, consecration, and intention to devote their lives to missionary work; (4) candidates must be able to furnish good recommendations as to moral character, religious experience, and industry; (5) candidate should not be younger than eighteen; (6) all candidates will be received on probation, and those not coming up to the standard will be asked to drop out. We shall be glad to correspond with such persons. These advantages are not offered to the young men alone, but to the young ladies as well, in their line of housework.

Remarks Upon the Course.

The course is strong in those subjects which are especially useful in the preparation for public religious work, and possesses an arrangement well suited to the needs of those who can spend only a limited time in school. It is of such a character that each year's work is highly practical and useful in itself, and not simply a preparation for the following year's work. The student is encouraged to study in those lines which will be most helpful to him, considering the time he has to remain in school; and the person who desires to prepare for a particular line of work, can, with the advice of the Faculty, select those branches which will most quickly qualify him for that work.

Such a course will not cheapen the education of students. On the contrary, it will tend to develop workers who will be an honor to God and to his cause in the earth. The same amount of time spent in the acquirement of practical knowledge that is spent in the pursuit of knowledge simply for its own sake cannot fail to be as valuable a discipline to the mind, and will, undoubtedly, go much further in the development of useful workers for God.

INSTRUCTION TO MINISTERS.—Young men who desire to enter the ministry can do so in a short time, provided they are willing to allow old habits to be broken up, and can reach the standard set for the Christian minister in the word of God. No person can be recommended by the Faculty to enter the ministry who has not proved himself a conscientious, intelligent student, with ability to make a success of this work. "Where now there is one minister there should be twenty, whom our College had prepared, with God's help, to enter the gospel field." May many earnest Christian men make up their minds to give themselves to this branch of the Lord's work. The Lord can open the way for all such to attend the College. Careful attention will be given to public speaking, methods of study, manner of presenting subjects, etc.

INSTRUCTION FOR CANVASSERS.—There are a large number of individuals who could make a success in this branch of the cause, and become self-supporting missionaries, if they could have the proper training. Our work is so prepared that this class can find just what they need to become self-cultured, polished in their manners, not the artificial and affected manners of the world, but the agreeable manners coming from a heart filled with the love of God. Arrangements will be made to have a practical canvasser connected with the school to assist in the instruction. One year ought to enable an intelligent person to do acceptable work in this line.

INSTRUCTION FOR BIBLE WORKERS.—"The plan of holding Bible readings was a heaven born-idea. There are many, both men and women, who can engage in this branch of missionary labor." Regular instruction is provided for all who desire to enter this branch of the work. Opportunity is given to learn the best methods of sending out literature, preparing and giving Bible readings, lectures, etc.; to study both home and foreign mission fields; to become acquainted with the lives and work of some of the most prominent missionaries.

All students who have done an amount of work sufficient to qualify them for some useful field of labor, and who, in the judgment of the Faculty, should enter that field, will be given a certificate or diploma showing the amount and real value of the work done by them in school. Instead of the usual degree, a recommendation from the Faculty will be given, in which will be stated the character and true worth of the efforts put forth by students, and their ability to do real, substantial work upon leaving school. The Faculty reserves the right to grant these recommendations to those only who have proved themselves worthy by their deportment and general scholarship. This recommendation is not held up as an inducement for students to complete a course, but will be granted to those who have shown that they are qualified to enter some line of work and make a success of it, though they may not have completed a course. The quality and not the quantity of the student's work is what makes him a true student and a successful worker.
